The houses of the natives are much the same in all divisions of Alaska. The dwellings are thus described:

A circular mound of earth, grass growing and littered with all sorts of household utenalls, a small spiral coil of smoke rising from the apex, dogs crouching, children climbing up or rolling down, stray morsels of food left from one meal to the other, and a from one meal to the other, and a soft mixture of mud and offal surround

The Mad-Dog Scare

"You see, we have been excited about this mad dog scare, and I asked pa what he would do if he met a mad dog. I teld him he would get up and dust, but he said he would grab the dog by the hind legs and beat its brains out.

"He said men were cowards generally.

He hated to see men get frightened and run when any calamity happened.

"I thought I would try pa, 'cause
I never heard of his showing much

"So I took out my black setter dog, and took pa's leather brush and put lather all around the dog's mouth for fonm. Then I took one of these little rubber bands and put it around the dog's upper jaw. That made the dog show his teeth and chew, so as to get the rutber off.
"But the dog wagged his tail all the time, 'cause he knew it was only and of my jokes on him, and 10 wasn't mad. ut he did look savage.

"When pa came in from down town at supper time I was up stairs with the dog, and I let him go, and he went down stairs on a gallop to welcome pa.

He thinks everything of pa.

"Pa saw him coming and he saw the foam on his mouth, and pa's hair just raised right up.

"The dog was going to jump up on ra as usual, and have pa take off the rubber band, but pa yelled. Take him off! He's mad! Hanner, lock yourself in the closet and telephone for the patrol

"Well, you'd a dide to see pa. He jnmped right over the dog, and went down the cellar stairs at two jumps, and crowded in the coal-bin under the kinding wood.

"I wiped the lather off the dog's mouth, and took the rubber off, and me and the dog went down cellar and hunted pa out.

"When pa saw our dog warging his "When pa saw our dog warging his "When pa saw our dog warging his tall and acting so happy, and no rroth on his mouth, he came out, and then he said. Taking Him at His Word.

At a meeting not long since a minister was making a strong argu-ment against the use of tobacco, and was winning many converts by his seal and evident honesty when a man stood up holding a plug of the much-bornted plant high in the air.

"You have convinced me, Sir," he eaid, addressing the preacher, "that it is very wrong and sinful to use tobacco, and I herewith join the ranks of those who denounce it for the good of who denounce it for the good of society."

Near this enthusiastic speaker was a poorly dressed little man who looked as if he made his bedroom in a dry goods box, and he remarked in a pleading tone:

"Well, if you are not going to use the chy more tobacco you might give that plug to me."—[Boston Budget.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS The following pistform and resolutions were adopted by the Republican State Convention, which nvened at Winnemucca on the 15th instant: The Republicans of the State of Nevada The Rep-blicans of the State of Nevada, in Convention assembled, again express their loyalty to the principles of the Republican party, which have made this contry an great and prosperous during the last quarter of a century.

HESOLVERD, That the question of a sufficient upply of circulating medium to maintain a permaneut range of the price of labor and property is the most important political question awaiting solution by the American people.

cal question as a control of meney reduces the price of labor and property, enriches the creditor, impoverishes the delitor, and paralyzes industry and enter-reduces the proce of lagor and property, enriches the creditor, impoverishes the debtor, and paralyzes industry and enterprise.

That the present financial system of the United Sta es, which increases or diminishes the circulating medium at the pleasure of the manipulators of the national hanks, without regard to the increase of population or the wants of the people, and which recognizes gold alone as the standard of value, and places in the hands of the Treasury Department all the revenue of the Government to peculate with in bonds and loan to the national banks without interest, is subscraive of the rights of the people, oppressive, unjust and should be repodiated. That a financial policy whereny both gold and silv r shall form the basis of irculation, whether the money used by the people be coin, or coin certificates redeemable in coin, or both, as convenience may require, is imperatively demanded.

That the atten pt to substitute national bank notes, coating the Government milions of dollars annually, for free silver, costing nothing, is an outrage up r the reople; that the money ring or trust, we let has usurped the sovereign power of the Government to issue money, and which has fraudulently demonetized silver and selzed the revenues of the Government for private speculation, shocks the moral sense of the government, borrows the revenues of the Government for private and law. We demand that the ring or trust be destroyed, and equal rights be restored to all the people.

We charge that President Cleveland is the willing tool or agent of a powerful money ring, which fattens on the subsidies of the Government, borrows the revenues raised by t xation and uses th m without the payment of interest, contracts the eur ency to cahor and property.

That we favor the nominatin of no man for President who is personally interested usurers, while it depresses the price of abor and property.

That we favor the nomination of no man jor irresident who is personally interested not national banks or the bonded indebtedness of the United States, but we demand a candidate who is free to do justice to all the people of the country—the poor as well as he rich.
That the trick of the President and his advisers by which they prevented a vote in

RESOLVED. That we are in favor of the protection of home industry, and that the abover of this country have a right to all the work required to supply the p-ople of the United States, and that we are in favor of high wages, and to that end will protect the wage, worker from competition with the cheap labor of other lands.

Kreutved, That the policy of the Government should be inaugurated and established by the p ople t rough their representatives in both ouses of tongress, and not by the President or money trust, of which he either as agent or head, is most active in defeading.

We charge President Cleveland with violating every promise he made in favor of civil service reform, with cripping the mail service, with refusing to sign necesary bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors, with using the power of his administration to prevent appropriations for navy and chat defenses, with attempting to destroy the protective tarif, with courting the good with of other nations at the expense of the citizens of the nited States, and with joining the foreign bondholders to demonstize silver and destroy the industries of his own country, and for the reduction of the wages of the flint empi-, os at (arson, for closing the Carson Mint when it was not only self-austaining but a source of revenue to the Government, for his contemptions vetoes of bills for the relief of disabled solders and saitors, and for failing to construct the Government building at Carson as required by law.

We are in favor of the absolute exclusion of this capacitation by which a revision of our naturalization and land laws may be accomplished.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

WASHINGTON, July 25 .- The Inter State Commerce Commission to-day decided in effect that the methods by which the Sta dard Oil Company came to be such a gigantic monopoly must cease to be used. The decision is in the case of Scofield, Shurmeir & Teagle and others against the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad involving oil rates from Cleveland to other cities. The commission decides that it is unlawful preference when a railroad makes a rate in favor of oil shipments in tank car lots as against shipment in barrel carload lots. The practice is ordered to be corrected and the mode prescribed by which this must be done is by giving the same rates on each per pound. The opinion is by Com-missioner Bragg.

EVIDENTLY INNOCENT.

Mr. W. A. Brady Ready and Willing to Meet His Maligner. This morning W. A. Brady of the Webster - Brady Dramatic Company called at the GAZETTE office and stated that the charge made against him to the effect that he had assailed the virtue of certain young ladies of Reno, was false in every particular. He defies the individual to confront him, and states that he will give him am ple opportunity to prove his statement in the courts. He deeply feels the stigma which has been placed upon his character, and is anxious to set himself right with the people of Renowho have treated him so kindly in the past. He does not care for the financial loss which may result from this evening's entertainment, but he does feel and says that the man who started the infamous lie should make himself known and either affirm or denv the story. In this the Gazette feels assured that the public will c n c r. Mr Brady has, to all appearances, be in cruelly and maliciously attacked, and the Gazette, in the absence of any proof to the contrary, takes pleasure in stating that it has every reason to be lieve that he is innocent of the charge. The story is well-known to our people, many of whom have announced their intention of not attending the performance on account of it, but the Gazette hopes that they will reconsider their determination and be present this evening if for no other purpose than to show by their presence that they discountenance the victious scandal-monger who started the rumor. ple opportunity to prove his statement stions Which should be sid and Acted Upon. EDITOR GAZETTE:-The surplus in the National Treasury has agitated the nation more than anything else for several years. It has and the only water problem pre-troubled the financiers, broken the s nted to it in England and Amerthing else for several years. It has sleep of Wall street, taken the time of Congress and agitated the President so that he recently devoted a message to it, recommending a surgical operation to remove it and prevent the possibility of its return. I confess that I never was injured by a surplus in the Treasury or saw anyone else injured by one, and I fail to appreciate the scare, but if there is any danger to the country at large from this cause what is to become of poor little Nevada who not only has to carry her share of the national surplus but actually has one of her own nearly six 'times as large, in proportion to population and wealth? While the surplus in the United States Treasury is gathered from imports upon articles brought from foreign coun tries, mostly for or by the rich, and upon the liquor and tobacco trade, ours comes from our own people and is drawn from the products of our own industries. It has been accumulating ever since our lands first became the desire of the homesceker, the farmer and the stockraiser, and seems likely to continue to accumulate at an in- and undignified struggles candicreasing ratio for some time to dates are expected to face. S. bonds worth more than par. The question then is, can the State properly and profitably draw upon this fund for the improvement of the State? Being the son of a Whig I must answer "Yes." Our only sources of wealth are water, land and mines. The latter we must leave to private enterprise, the two others we must bring together. We can increase the water supply at an outlay that will prove immensely profitable as a business proposition. are opportunities for reservoirs that would cost to build from a much as anything on the coast. few dollars up to hundreds of thousands, but that is only the raw material, and those who go into the study of this question will find that this people have never had so difficult a problem to solve. Yet it presses and will not be put down and we must be studying it in very self-preservation.

A great difficulty in the way of saving water on the Humboldt and its tributaries is that it will destroy the immense crop of fine natural hay on the river bottoms, which in early days was the only source of supply for a country hundreds of miles in extent. Like the valley of the Nile, spring floods sweeping tor days and weeks over the entire surface of the meadows are necessary to the growth of crops.

No floods in May no hay in July.

On the Truckee, Walker and Carson the case is very different. The spring floods are no source of great damage, but here again a serious difficulty presents itself in the fact that almost all of the reservoir sites are in California and any money spent to build dams would be adding to the wealth of a possible rival or even enemy, placing ourselves in the power of county assessors across the border. It would not be safe to do much without procuring an amendment to the constitution of California guaranteeing immunity from tax-

Then, too, many of the reservoir sites are now fine meadows or ranches which must be purchased before they can be flooded. If it is decided that something shall be done, a train of questions will present themselves.

Shall funds be appropriated direct or shall bounties be paid to those who increase the water sup-

The world cannot afford to lose them, and it would disgrace Nevada in the eyes of all civilized nations if they were permitted to be obliterated. Provision should be made also for the preservation of prehistoric remains, of natural curiosities, mineral specimens, plants, fossils, etc. Nevada affords a rich field for the collection, and every day specimens and relics are being lost and destroyed which would in a very short time be of inestimable value to the human race. Family heirlooms, private correspondence and local articles of various kinds would be donated or placed by bequest in a suitable place if provided and given the standing of a department of the government, clothed with authorty by the State, which would be of the greatest interest in after years, but which if left to chance will soon disappear beyond recall. The ustural place for such a collection would be where the wonderful foot prints are. They would give starter that could not be found anywhere else in the world and taken with what is now stored by the State, would make a remarkably good basis to found such an our people. institution on. - Appearance of the Webster Brady Company.

To-night this company will make their re-appearance in Reno and will present W. A. Brady's original dramatic version of Haggard's "She" with the same great cast used in their eastern productions, where they achieved one of the dramatic hits of the present season. The scenery to be used in this performance was expres-ly painted in Chicago and the critics and public were unanimous in declaring ing it one of the finest and most brilgiven on the stage. All of the old favorites are retained in the present cast which is probably the most com-plete that has ever visited Reno, and which goes to make it one of the best equipped organizations before the pub-lic. The stage of the new theater is far better adapted to display the spec-tacular effects than the old one in which goes to make it one of the best which the company formerly appeared. It would not be out of place to state that the performance of "She" by the present company is in no way similar to the so-called performances of an organization which recently appeared in this city. The sale of seats is reported as quite large and the indica-tions are favorable for a large house. As this is the only appearance here the people should avail themselves of this opportunity of seeing one of the most pleasing of performances and at the same time satisfying their curiosity regarding the weird and fantasti

Shrinkage and Remedy Sug-

The sudden shrinkage in the Carson river water volume this year is accounted for by the Lyon county Times other side of the Sierra, and when the summer sun came and melted it the water flowed into California instead of coming this way. PACING THE TRUCKEE-THE ARISTOCRATIC RIVERSIDE AVENUE DRIVEWAY-SPLENDID SEWERAGE-HEALTHFUL LOCATION AND SAFE FROM FIRE.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town, this addition faces the beautiful Truckee River, and Riverside avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is, it is more exempt from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

MYSTERY AND DELUSION

Something About Seances-A New Ghest Story-Parlor Entertainment.

Spirit scances are likely to puzzle. I cannot explain how at the only one I ever attended the medium gave me so accurate an obtuary history of my relatives and friends.

It was in West Forty-sixth street. The house was pretentiously furnished. I was ushered into a small reception room hung with curtains, which was half of the front room, the other half being utilized as a hallway leading to the center vestibule. The back room was the parlor, and extended to the width and depth of the house.

In this there were several people patiently awaiting opportunities to interview relatives who had "gone before."

She begged that I would go eventually to another medium to compare notes for confirmation of the desire of my spirit friends to talk to me, and see if I might not get the same messages. In a moment she took my hands in hers and gracefully sunk back and into a trance.

She possessed a good deal of magnetism, for the touch of her fingers produced a pricking sensation, as if I were holding the handles of an electric battery.

I must confess that I was greatly surprised at her familiarity with the names of my dead relatives and acquaintances, while her descriptions were very accurate and messages quite as I would anticipate from those sho declared wero

And so to bed at the unwonted hour of 10, under the fatal lilusion that the amount of fresh air we have imbibed will induce quick sleep.

After an hour or two of undisturbed meditation, however, we are startled to discover a huge rat investigating our pillow. The chase affords live minutes diversion; but he makes good his escape through the window, as if he knew the way well, and disappears. Ten minutes later he reappears at another window, and, on being dislodged, shows up again at a third. The mystery is explained by our discovering a small cornice running round the house, which is evidently a rats' highway. After another hour or so spent in fruitless endeavors to get rid of the creature, we place a plece of cake on the window sill at his disposal, and he probably cats himself into a state of peace.

At 6 in the morning we are awakened by one of the officers, who insists on our going down for a swim in the sulphur tank. For the moderate enarge of one plaster we are provided with towels and a wooden shed to undress in. The tank is open to the air, and a few Bedouins sitting under the trees which line its edge devote themselves to watching our gambols. The water is cool and deep, and the swim is delicious,
